

Red Bear Hand Cleaner

Red Bear Inc. is based in upstate NY. We manufacture and sell a high quality, highly effective hand cleaner that removes virtually anything from hard-working hands. Unlike other hand cleaners on the market, it is suitable for both home and industrial use.

Red Bear Hand Cleaner is non-toxic, non-hazardous and petroleum-free. It's water-activated, so wet your hands before taking about a tablespoon of hand cleaner. The foaming scrub will vigorously remove even the most stubborn dirt, grime and ink from your hands.

It is our goal to clean your hands without causing excessive skin irritation, a common result of using inferior solvent-based products. Many of our competitors' products are solvent-based and can cause severe dryness, whereas Red Bear is detergent-based. Solvents dissolve dirt from the hands, but detergents actually break down the properties of a stain to keep it from sticking to hands.

Because Red Bear contains no harsh chemicals to dry out your skin, we don't need to add lanolin or other oils to our product. This means hands are quickly rinsed clean, leaving behind no greasy residue or odors. The combination of warm water, detergents and ground scrubbing particles is what makes Red Bear a superior product that's gentle enough for even your children to use.

Red Bear kills odors, lasts 4 to 5 times longer than other cleaners and doesn't lose cleaning strength when left open. With regular use it also keeps sinks clean and it won't ever clog drains.

Red Bear Hand Cleaner donates a percentage of its profits to conserving the habitats and populations of bears native to North America. Red Bear is also an environmentally conscious company in other ways. We are developing a recycling program so that our customers can return their containers for discounts on future purchases, and looking for other ways to reduce our impact on the environment.
